Technical characteristics of the softshell fabric

SOFT-SHELL

3 LAYERS

WATER RESISTANCE + BREATHABILITY = WATERPROOF

Our SOFT-SHELL can be used in professional and sporting environments, because they are all water-repellent thanks to the water repellent treatment.

The 3-layer SOFT-SHELL is the result of the combination of 3 different fabrics to offer maximum comfort to the user:

- an external fabric with water repellent treatment
- a waterproof and breathable internal membrane and windproof
- an internal anti-pilling fleece fabric

The internal membrane is made up of a mesh structure that blocks access to the water molecules while allowing human vapor to escape. This is why 3-layer softshells are defined as waterproof.

The membrane opposes also resistance to the wind, making the garment windproof.

SOFT-SHELL

2 LAYERS

WATER REPELLENT

In the 2-layer SOFT-SHELL there is no internal membrane, so the garment is softer and more embracing, but thanks to a repellent treatment that JRC applies on the external fabric, the garment remain water repellent.

A man with dark, wavy hair and a light beard is wearing a bright blue soft-shell jacket with black accents on the shoulders, cuffs, and a vertical zippered pocket on the left side. The jacket has a hood and a full-length front zipper. The background is a plain, light grey.

All working phases of sweater collection are Made in Italy to offer a superior quality.

A man with a beard and light brown hair is wearing a bright red zip-up sweater. He is standing outdoors in front of a dense background of green trees and bushes. The lighting is bright, suggesting a sunny day. The sweater has a high collar and a visible zipper. The man's right hand is partially visible, tucked into his pocket.
